

Mahre Training Center Ski Camp Participant Information

Thank you for making Deer Valley and the Mahre Training Center part of your skiing experience this season. During your session, you will learn the special training techniques developed by former U.S. Ski Team Coach and Director, Harold Schoenhaar, and used by the Mahre brothers, Phil and Steve, to win Olympic medals. These unique ski training methods have been adapted to benefit all levels from First-timers to Expert skiers, in a camp format. By camp's end, you will be skiing with greater confidence, control and speed.

The Camps, conducted in part by Phil and Steve Mahre, provide fundamentals to all ability zones. They include daily instruction by Deer Valley's professional Ski Instructors, indoor sessions, unique Mahre Training Center progression, video, a last-day awards celebration and other amenities.

Please come and meet your Instructor and other camp participants at Snow Park Lodge for breakfast the first morning of Camp. Instructors are available to answer questions and begin forming into groups. Prior to heading to the slopes, you will have a few minutes to boot up before meeting at the lifts.
